BARGAINING & NEGOTIATION

Participants are introduced to bargaining & negotiating (B&N) concepts such as understanding your goal, conditions and limits. The group is split into teams and each team works through challenges, while earning "money". In the next part, each team is required to build an item, and in order to succeed, they need to use their available resources to obtain all the required materials. The activity is timed and there are breakouts for strategizing, assessing resources, and negotiations with other groups. First team to complete building their item and effectively utilizes resources, wins!

CULTURE MATTERS

Corporate culture is vital to an organization's success, as emphasized by Simon Sinek's perspective on management's treatment of its people. This workshop, influenced by leaders like Sinek, Coyle, Edmondson, and Brown, explores key concepts like Psychological Safety, Vulnerability, and Purpose. Through specialized activities, it highlights core behaviors, enabling participants to understand their team's true culture. The end goal is to equip participants to collaboratively define a team's purpose with meaningful impact.

A group of approximately 15-20 people are gathered around a large, dark metal fire pit in an outdoor setting at dusk. The fire is burning brightly in the center. The people are dressed in casual attire, including polo shirts, t-shirts, and caps. Some are wearing bright orange safety vests. In the background, there is a modern building with large glass windows reflecting the sunset. Several closed patio umbrellas are visible, and a white canopy tent is partially seen on the right. The overall atmosphere is social and relaxed.

THANK YOU.
